

Former US President Obama to relocate to Kenya in June

by FurtherAfrica — April 1, 2023 in Africa, Diplomacy, Kenya

👍 7.7k 🗨️ 157 💬 0

Reading Time: 3 mins read

Former US President Barack Obama is resettling in Kenya for at least a year as Special Envoy for US Diplomacy (SED), a deployment which he said “makes me truly grateful as I pay tribute to the land of my father- and forefathers”.

Nominated by President Joe Biden, who was Obama's Vice President between 2009 and 2016, the former president, codenamed “Renegade”, was confirmed by The US Senate, which is increasingly exploring the possibility of sending retired Presidents to countries of their ancestry.

2018

Mar 09, 2018 1:48:18 AM EST

Anonymous ID: 853fdd No. 598223

0d4caa14a93088e923034ab749....jpg

Marzo 2018, post di Q

immagine di Trump che dice a Obama: "quando avro' finito sara' come se tu non ci fossi mai stato"

Qui sopra c'e' l'icona del giustiziere ("Punisher")

Qui sotto Q scrive (sempre 5 anni fa):

"Quando avremo finito lui [Obama] chiederà la cittadinanza keniana come via di fuga"

CC1B1FD7-8B70-4CEB-A4F7-F5....png

>>598223

When we're done he'll claim KENYAN citizenship as a way to escape.

Q